Cover this page thoroughly and make sure everyone is ready to move forward! They are expected to do a lot in this class and are expected to have completed their Mission.

Ignite is designed for a lot of “DOING”, not just listening and learning, because doing is where the learning happens!

Remember there are expectations for you too! Be sure to review the videos in the Mission prior to class.

Help participants be successful!
Instructor:

For every day in class, participants are completing their Mission in advance. This is an expectation that you are holding them accountable to!

- Take 10 minutes to debrief their Mission. This step is essential in that it shows that you care that they got it done and that it was valuable to them.

- Ask for aha’s from any videos they were assigned to watch. (Refer to questions on the PowerPoint.)

- Ask – What did you take away from the Mission that will help you in your business?

- When participants have a question about the Mission, before you answer, ask the class, “How would YOU answer that?” This is a good way to check for understanding and to reinforce participants learning from one another.

Action Reveal

There are three parts to the Action Reveal.

1. Review Mission assignments and get questions answered.

a. Answer questions about any videos watched.

1. Participants should have entered their activities into the electronic myTracker – show the leaderboard results in the classroom (on a projector if you have one.)

2. In addition, have each participant either fill in his/her numbers or you can fill the numbers on a white board or flip chart that is displayed in the classroom.

Techniques such as competitions will promote productivity and comradery in the classroom—refer to your Ignite instructor tools for ideas and inspiration.

REFERRALS

Hi ____ , my name is ___ with Keller Williams Realty. Your name was given to me by a close friend of both of ours, (your Met’s name), and he/she said that I should give you a call. Is right now a good time to talk for a couple of minutes? Excellent!

(Your Met’s name) said that you were thinking about buying/selling a house in (time frame for buying/selling) and asked if I would please give you a call. He/She and I both want to make certain that you are in great hands and that you have the very best, so that’s why I’m calling.

Since everyone likes to know what houses are selling for, I’d like to share my real estate app with you. You can see what’s going on anywhere, from your street to any place in North America! It’s free, there’s no cost to you, and I can send you a text to link to it. Does that sound good? Great!

If they are buying …

Have you seen anything you like thus far? Great!

Are you working with any other agent? No? That’s good.

If they are selling …

When are you planning to move?

Have you listed with another agent? No? Excellent!

Continue …

The next step is for us to get together. I can answer all your questions and explain how the entire process works. It will only take about 20 minutes. Can we meet today, or would tomorrow be better for you?

If no thanks …

I understand. Just so you now, I have a wealth of interesting and timely information about the real estate market in your area, and I’d love to send it to you. Let me make sure I have your current email and address.

And do me a favor, please. If you hear of someone with a real estate need, will you keep me in mind? Great. And, after you download the app and try it out, send me a text and let me know how you like it. I’d appreciate that.

Thank you for your time today, and please let me know if there is anything I can ever do for you.
1. New to Real Estate

Hello, this is _______! Do you have a moment? I’d like to share the exciting news that I have become a real estate agent with Keller Williams Realty.

With this new partnership, I have all their knowledge working for me. Plus, my clients get all my enthusiasm and hard work. I thought about sharing this with you because I knew you would be someone to help me grow my business.

2. New to Keller Williams Realty

Hello, this is _______! Do you have a moment?

I’d like to share some exciting news with you. Usually, I’m the one helping people make a move. This time, I’m the one who moved! My clients will continue to get all my enthusiasm and hard work. And, as you already know, I’ll do whatever it takes to help people. May I count on you to help me grow my business?

Your Turn – Handwritten Notes

1. Write notes to 2 – 3 people you called to thank them for their time.

   Thank you for taking the time to chat with me today. It was great to catch up with you and let you know what I’ve been up to with my business. I’m thrilled to be with Keller Williams Realty, and I am available to you at any time, to be an asset and resource to you, your family, and your friends. 2. Enclose a business card in each note, stamp, and mail from your Market Center.

   Time: 5 minutes

Note: If anyone forgot notecards, ask to borrow a few from a fellow participant, or (optional) have participants buy notecards from the Market Center. Stress how important this step is.
Get Your Head in the Game

In Power Session 2, you committed to build your database and launch your contacts on touch campaigns. To continue to add to your database, you will need to lead generate for additional contacts.

Discussion: Why Lead Generate

- Why is active lead generation important?

  Active lead generation ensures that not only will you get business quickly, but when done consistently, it also ensures a steady stream of business. Said another way, active lead generation turns the feast-or-famine cycle that most agents go through and creates a steady upward increase in business.

- What do you think is different about the lead generation of successful agents compared to their not-so-successful peers?

  The difference between successful and not-so-successful agents is that successful agents make lead generation a daily habit and set out to master the skills, systems, and tools of lead generation.

“Success leaves clues: Agents who take Ignite achieve 71% more contacts, 65% more calls and 88% more previews. They grow their market share and create opportunities.”

John Davis, CEO, Keller Williams Realty
Prospecting is the quickest and most productive way to get leads and appointments for business. The quantity of leads and the quality of appointments you obtain is a direct reflection of your prospecting effort. Remember that the Daily 10/4 has lead generation built into the formula. You do this daily to build a habit of doing what’s most important to your business before all else!

Prospecting determines the size of your funnel.

The goal is to move leads to appointments, then agreements, then contracts, and then closings, which yield commission.

Prospecting is the cornerstone of lead generation. Every time you meet someone, you should be thinking, “What is the relationship opportunity here?”
Prospecting is an investment and commitment to your business. Prospecting is critical to your business for the following reasons.

Discussion: What are the benefits of prospecting?

Instructor:

Discuss the benefits of prospecting with the class.

- Is inexpensive and yields immediate results
- Puts you in control of filling your pipeline of leads
- Increases your confidence and skill
- Yields quantity of leads which yield quality leads
- Keeps you in direct contact with the market and protects against market shifts

Ask:

Why are these benefits important to both a new agent and a tenured agent?

Discuss the myth and truth on this page.

| MYTH | Prospecting = Annoying People = Rejection |
| TRUTH | Prospecting = Meeting People and Building Purposeful Business Relationships = A Strong Real Estate Business |
The Four Cs of Prospecting

Prospecting is a conversation. It’s all about creating the kind of personal connections that will lead to purposeful relationships you can build a business on.

You make prospecting happen through four simple steps.

1. You first CAPTURE leads by getting their contact information.
2. Then CONNECT by establishing a relationship.
3. Finally, CLOSE them for an appointment and eventually to buying or selling real property.
4. CULTIVATE them to maintain and strengthen your relationship.

Business-building conversations aim to achieve these goals:

1. Get an appointment.
2. Get a referral.

And they always accomplish the following:

3. Strengthen the relationship.
1. Capture

The goal of building a database is to capture as many Haven’t Mets as possible and turn them into Mets quickly, and then turn Mets into repeat and referral business. One of the best ways to do this is to leverage your Mets through prospecting.

In Ignite sessions 1 and 2, you have been capturing contact information from your Mets, but odds are you still don’t have all the information you need from everyone.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Phone</th>
<th>Email</th>
<th>Mailing address</th>
<th>Connected on social media</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nick Neighbor</td>
<td></td>
<td>nick@neighbor.com</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Remember, every time you speak with someone in your database, make sure you have all their information.

In your conversation, just add on “By the way, what’s your …?” Then enter it into your database immediately.
Successful real estate agents understand how important it is to connect with people, and refine this skill by doing it often and consistently. Your goal in the Connect step is to approach an individual in a way that builds rapport and trust. One of the best ways is with questions.

Look for opportunities to be of service to them. When you use your scripts and uncover a real estate need, dig deeper for more information that will help you close.

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Get a feel for their timeline.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Assess their expectations.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Using questions that start with the words who, what, where, why, when, and how will get you the full story on anything.
3. Close

Closing is the process of asking for business. Connecting is crucial, but unless you get their business, you won’t be making any money. Many agents are very successful at connecting with people. It’s the asking for business that is so challenging.

Your goal for the call is to close for at least one of the following:

1. An appointment with them
2. A referral from them
3. A reciprocal connection with them

<table>

</tbody>
</table>
Whether or not you have closed for an appointment or gotten a referral, once a connection has been made, it can always be strengthened—it’s an ongoing process.

The relationships established here will continue to build as you keep in touch and perhaps eventually do business together. And you want the relationship to keep building—people who like you will do business with you and refer more business to you.

Setting your contacts up on a touch campaign in eEdge will continue to cultivate the relationship.

Be sure to use the information you gain about them, their wants and needs, to enrich your future touches by sharing information that they will appreciate.

And for anyone who gives you a referral, include a thank-you reward and positive progress reports about the referral into your touches for that referring contact.
Your Sphere of Influence

Think of the people closest to you as the Inner Circle of your Sphere of Influence. They are your biggest champions. They already know, trust, and respect you—therefore, they are likely to be willing to help you. Because, after all, people like to do business with those they know, trust, and respect.

Your Inner Circle is the group of people you’ll look to most often—and reward most often—for help and support in referring business your way. In fact, the majority of your business during your first year in real estate will most likely originate from your Inner Circle.

It’s only natural that your Sphere is the place where you’ll begin to find leads.

Instructor:
Ask:
How many people do you know? 50? 100? 200? Average is thought to be around 150.

Ask:
Look in your Facebook. How many friends do you have? Do you know more than that?

Tell:
And then, how many people do each of the people you know? A lot!

This is where you start to find leads.
Instructor:

Explain that participants will be timed in this competition to see who can write down the most names.

After 10 minutes, count up the number of names and congratulate the “winners”.

Ask for their aha’s about their Sphere of Influence.

Ask the participants how they can get ideas or categories for Other. Think phone book.

Your Turn – Sphere of Influence

Fill out your Sphere of Influence by writing down as many names as you can for each category. Even if you only know someone’s first or last name, write it down!

Time-Blocking with the 3–3

Prospect efficiently and consistently with three processes in your three hours of daily lead generation. The formula for this time-blocking discipline is called the “3-3,” and stands for three things done in three hours. As a new agent, you can and should spend more than three hours doing this:

<table>

<tr>

</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Instructor:
The 3–3 in today's class will mimic the actions agents should be taking on their own once they are out of Ignite. Be sure to point out the process they are following as you move through the exercises. For example, say, “Just like you would do if you were lead generating on your own, now we are going to prepare/take action/maintain.”

Video

Activity: Watch Masters at Work

- Watch the video: “Cold Calling with the Real Estate Brothers”
- What are your aha’s?

Time: 5 minutes
1. Prepare

Solid preparation is the foundation of any successful prospecting. Plan to spend approximately 30 minutes getting ready.

1. Prep Call Lists – generate a list of names, phone numbers, and pertinent info
   - Referrals
   - Sphere—who is due for a call?
   - For sale by owners (FSBOs)
   - Leads from sign calls or website
   - Neighbors of just listed, just solds
   - Expired or withdrawn listings
   - Allied Resources
   - Any past clients

2. Rehearse Scripts

   - Formal script practice is a daily activity you should be doing with a script partner or as part of a team prior to your preparation time.
   - Say affirmations, focus on your Big Why, and keep your eye on your goals.

2. Take Action

It’s prospecting time! Approximately two hours of the 3–3 is spent making connections, building relationships, and asking for business.

1. Get out your database or call list and start calling.

2. Update your database with each call. It is important to get the details while they are fresh in your head.

3. Maintain

Approximately 30 minutes of your daily 3–3 is time spent wrapping up your lead generation with methodical follow-up.

   - Finish entering results into your database.
   - Write follow-up notes.
   - Track results.
   - Schedule and calendar follow-up.
   - Fulfill promises such as sending any information they requested.
Prospecting Opportunities

We have discussed working with your Mets and asking for referrals. But once you have contacted all of your personal contacts and any referrals you have received, where are you going to find more contacts?

So far we have learned different methods for finding, reaching out to, and connecting with potential clients. Now we will use this information and focus on different prospecting opportunities.

6. Social Media

1. Door Knocking, Geographical Farming

Door knocking in a neighborhood (also known as a targeted geographical farm) to promote your business means talking with prospective clients. And, it’s a great way to promote your upcoming open house!

- Don’t be pushy; come from contribution and let people know what is happening in the area.

- Ask for business, offer advice, and be available as a resource.

- Provide market information when it’s appropriate:

  o “Did you know homes in our neighborhood are selling in less than 30 days?”

  o “That home over on Mayberry just sold for $350K! That means home values are going up.”

  o Vendor referrals: “My clients seem to like ABC Company”.
2. For Sale By Owners (FSBOs)

The best agents have long recognized that people who place their own for-sale sign on their property and run their own ads have proven one thing: they are motivated to sell. If you are persistent with these sellers, you’ll have a good chance to win their listing—after your competition gives up.

NAR Fact

The National Association of Realtors (NAR) estimates that about 9 percent of all homes that sell are sold by the owner.

Contacting FSBOs

1. Get their information: Get their contact information and add them to your database. You can often find their numbers in a cross-reference directory, or stop at their home when you see their sign. Finding FSBOs is as easy as driving neighborhoods where you want to work in real estate. Or, you can look for “by owner” advertising online or in your local newspaper. Your goal: Meet them any way you can.

2. Get an appointment to see their home: At this point, it’s not about getting the listing.

AGENT:

Good morning, my name is _______ with Keller Williams Realty, and I noticed your home is for sale. As a real estate customer service expert, I like to keep up with the inventory in this area so I know what kind of buyers to bring. Would you be offended if I came over to view your home?

If “Yes” (they would be offended), or “We don’t want to list with a real estate agent.”

I promise I won’t ask you for your listing. The reason for my call is not to list your home. I would simply like to put the home on my For Sale by Owner Inventory List. Would today at 3:00 p.m. or tomorrow at 1:00 p.m. be better for you?

Instructor:

Tell participants that some of the problems that FSBOs face are: Selling takes a lot of time, requires pricing and other skills they probably don’t have, as well as resources that are not available to them.
3. Go slowly at first: Your goal is to see their home, so take a light-handed approach until you have a chance to tour their property inside and out.

AGENT:

Mr./Ms. FSBO, thank you for allowing me to view your home today. Would you mind just showing me around and pointing out the features?

Where are you going next? When do you need to arrive?

Mr./Ms. FSBO, thank you so much again for showing me your lovely home. I want to wish you the best of luck in selling it. I have ______ (offer one of your reports) that might help you sell your home. I’d be happy to drop it off, because I’m hoping for a win-win here. I can provide you with information to help you sell and I hope that, in return, you will refer any buyers not interested in your home to me. Is there anything else I can do to help?

4. Win their trust by being a resource: Build rapport and a relationship with them; approach them with an attractive alternative to what they are doing by being a resource first (provide home staging tips or a discount coupon for a local home improvement store); later, you can start them on an 8 x 8 touch program in eEdge.

AGENT:

It was good to meet you the other day. I’ll plan to check in with you from time to time—just to see how things are going and where there have been any changes in your plan to sell.

Selling is hard work. I have a tip sheet on preparing your home to sell that might help. I’ll be in your area tomorrow: can I drop it off around 9:00 a.m., or would the afternoon around 2:00 p.m. be better?

5. Focus on saving money: This is one of their goals; show how they can actually save money by working with a good agent.

AGENT:

There are some good statistics available about the prices buyers pay for homes. I’d like to show them to you, or drop off a copy. What day and time would be convenient? It’ll just take a minute.
6. Focus on saving time: Show that they can get their life back and return to doing things they enjoy more, while a professional—you—gets their home sold.

AGENT:

Good morning, Mr./Ms. FSBO. I thought you might be able to use this information on home improvements and cosmetic changes that are most effective with buyers. How are things going?

3. Expired or Withdrawn Listings

Expired listings are properties that did not sell during their listing contract—usually between 90–180 days. Canceled or withdrawn listings are properties that were taken off the market before the listing expired. Both are a good source for business because, most of the time, the sellers still want to sell their home.

THREE COMMON REASONS HOMES DON’T SELL

1. Price
2. Marketing
3. Condition

Find expired and withdrawn listings by searching your MLS daily for new property status changes. Follow these strategies and associated scripts to win with owners of expired listings:

1. Confirm expiration: Make sure you confirm that the listing has expired. If it has not, soliciting their business is a violation of the NAR Code of Ethics.

2. Stay low-key, but be persistent and consistent: Expired or withdrawn listings are more responsive to a low-key approach rather than a high-pressure sales pitch. They’ve been disappointed—perhaps both in their agent and the process.

3. Meet in person: Face-to-face initial contact is ideal. It will demonstrate your high level of interest and allow for better rapport building.

4. Be ready for a listing presentation: Have your listing presentation prepared before you make contact. The seller is usually eager to sell their home as soon as possible and may not want to waste time.

Instructor:

Reinforce the importance of complying with the NAR Code of Ethics regarding expired listings.
Open houses represent your first and easiest public opportunity to do the job of a professional real estate agent by positioning yourself as the local expert and offering your services to the following people:

1. Buyers
2. Buyers who are also selling
3. Sellers
4. Other agents

Get purposeful with open houses!

Take advantage of every phase of the event to promote your services to your Mets, Haven’t Mets, and social media network.

5. Agent Referrals

Believe it or not, some agents have leads they are not following up on for one reason or another.

Reasons Agents May Pass On Leads

- Too many leads and a lack of time or resources
- The agent may favor working with sellers and be amenable to passing on some of their buyer leads to you
- An agent from a different city/town/stats may refer leads of buyers moving to your area

The best way to get referrals from other agents is to cultivate relationships with them and ask for referrals!

6. Social Media

The best way to engage with a quality database is through social media. If you’re like most people and use social media every day, you can think of it as a 365-touch system. Here are some ways you can interact with Mets and their Sphere and position yourself at the top of their minds:

Facebook

Facebook is where people go to connect with friends and family online. Most agents want to connect with friends and family of clients. It provides trust and word of mouth marketing.

TIP

Don’t use your personal Facebook account for your real estate services. Why? It may lack professionalism, and you miss out on a lot of essential business features (such as the ability to run Facebook contests and check your Facebook Insights). It’s really easy to make a business Facebook page, and it’s worth the effort.

Instructor:

Tell: “Using social media can be a great part of your overall lead generation strategy, but direct methods of lead generation like prospecting FSBOs, etc., will generally lead to faster results, so prioritize your lead generation time accordingly.”
1. Post about your neighborhood. Show off your geographic farm or neighborhood. This both markets your area to prospective residents, and shows your passion and knowledge of where you are selling homes.

   - For example, if there is a new community center being built, post about it, and talk about the benefits and how it will make the lifestyle better for new (and existing) residents.

2. Use images when you update. Images on Facebook are the most engaging types of content. The more likes, shares and comments your posts get, the more they will be viewed in news feeds by the friends of your Facebook friends (people who like your page).

3. Post about events in your neighborhood. Show how wonderful your city culture is. Post about local events in your town. If you’re going to a neighborhood event, tell your friends, and invite them to join you. Also, ask questions to spark engagement and get more comments.

4. Conratulate new homeowners on closing day. This shows you care about your clients. You’ll do this in person and on your Facebook page too!

5. Engage with polls or surveys. Polls and surveys provide an amazing way to create more engagement on your page, and have fun with your friends. You can use them to develop deeper relationships with your clients, get to know their likes and dislikes, and promote yourself as an agent who listens. You can even use them as a way to market your listings too!

   - For example, run a voting poll to ask your Friends what photo they like best from your latest listing.

6. Post your listings. Yes, use Facebook to post your listings too. The golden rule in social media is 80/20. That is … post 80 percent of your content about lifestyles, customer interests, and other updates; post 20 percent of your content about you and your product. This keeps your social media social, and engaging.

   - When you post your listings, keep the personality of you on your Facebook page. This is not a print ad. Tell about the home and what points will sell it. Tell how many bedrooms and baths. Tell the address. Tell the price.

   - Ask questions about your new listing, to get comments about what people like about it, what they like about the neighborhood, or comments about the schools and community facilities. Post about your open houses too.
Twitter

Twitter is another amazing way to keep connected to your clients. Twitter gives you 140 characters to give updates to your followers. Use it to engage and strengthen your relationships.

1. Tweet questions. Post questions to your followers to encourage a response. For example, ask:
   - What’s the best thing about moving to a new home? #moving #newhome #whatgoeswhere
   - What would your ideal kitchen look like? #kitchens #daretodream #newhome
   - How often do you renovate your home? #newhome #renovations #homedecor

2. Tweet about your listings. Again, use the 80/20 rule. 80 percent of your content is about lifestyle and connecting; 20 percent is about your listings.

3. Tweet tips about staging and moving. Help out your clients (and yourself) by teaching them how to stage their home for better sales. Post links to helpful articles and videos on how to present a home when you’re selling it. Include tips about how to pack and make a move less stressful.

4. Tweet local news. Twitter tends to be a great place for news. If there’s a new school being built in your area - tweet about it. Good news stories show how great your neighborhood is, and how well you know it.

5. Tweet about charity events. Tweet about local events you support. Show you are connected, trustworthy, and care about your community.

6. Use hashtags. On Twitter, using hashtags gets your tweets seen by more than your followers. Use relevant and specific numbers to get found by those looking for your subject matter.

7. Use @mentions to keep in touch with clients. Twitter lets you send tweets to specific people. Aside from using direct messages, send out a tweet to congratulate a new home owner, or to thank a local merchant for assisting you, etc.
Pinterest

Pinterest is the fourth largest social site and is all about connecting through images. This provides an amazing opportunity to show off the visuals of your listings. Your listings get sold by appealing to visual emotions.

On Pinterest, you set up boards, pin images, and engage by repinning, liking, and commenting.

1. Set up a board about your neighborhood or geographic farm. Sell the area around your listings. Create boards about the amenities, shops, and services available in the community.

2. Set up boards about your hobbies. Show who you are. If you like to cook, post some of your favorite recipes. If you like to play tennis, post about tennis groups and where to play tennis in your locale.

3. Set up boards about home decor. Appeal to the inner designers on Pinterest, and show off beautiful photos of amazing home decor. Link to how-to sites.

4. Set up a board for your listings. Keep with the 80/20 Principle, but make sure you have a board specifically for your listings. Make sure your listing board is located in your first four. This keeps your listings easy to see.

5. Use hashtags. Just like on Twitter and Facebook, use hashtags to connect with your market, and extend your posting reach beyond just your following.

Instagram

Instagram is widely used in different parts of the world and is growing in popularity. It allows users to upload photos and videos with stories, filters, locations, and hashtags. Its flexibility allows connection to other social media platforms, and can be viewed on both mobile and desktop platforms.

1. Post your photo and bio along with a link to your branded mobile Search App and bio. Include a story of your Value Proposition

2. Post listings with multiple photos and descriptions. Include applicable hashtags. Send targeted, private messages of listings to clients.

3. Show live events or walk-throughs of open houses, include comments in the story, and even highlight each room of the house.

4. Highlight stories of clients: First time homebuyers and happy sellers. These become testimonials and valuable online reviews.
Other Social Sites

There are many other social sites real estate agents can use effectively.

1. LinkedIn: Set up a business page and make sure your LinkedIn profile is complete - include a good summary, introducing yourself, and why you’re a good agent choice (both to buy from and to sell through). Join local groups and participate in them. Keep connected with your clients, and ask for referrals through the site (just as you would in person).

2. YouTube: Make videos showing your listings. Use a short video to introduce yourself (you can embed this onto your website too!). Use videos to show off the best features in your neighborhood or geographic farm.

3. Blog: Blogs are a great way to write about your knowledge of your trade, and get your clients clicking on to your website.
   - Use your blog to post news about the local housing market, interest rates, and property listings. A blog post lets you describe your listings in a longer format than most other social (and traditional print) marketing.

4. Community websites: Many neighborhoods have community websites and Facebook pages; this is an excellent way to get connected with potential clients.

Instructor:
Ask participants for any additional ideas for social media.
Pair up to plan and post to social media:

1. Use the data from your local MLS to construct a statement followed by a question as if you were updating your status. For example:
   - Homes stay on the market for an average of 40 days in Denver. Curious about your neighborhood?
   - Who says no one is buying or selling in this economy? Last month, 563 homes sold in Boise.
   - The average home price in Springfield is $168,240. Curious about what your home is worth?

2. Each of you post it to Facebook, and then respond to each other’s post with a comment or question. Note: You may need to “friend” each other first.

3. Watch for comments and likes to appear!

Become a Lead Generation Machine!

“My fear of failure was greater than my fear of lead generating.”

Gary Keller, cofounder and chairman, Keller Williams Realty

Make a commitment to prospecting, faithfully time block to do your three hours of lead generation every day, and your business will succeed - period.

Think about all the places you go and people you see throughout your day. There are opportunities around you everywhere—all day, every day.

Our research confirms that many real estate agents experience fear or anxiety about making contact with other people—particularly people they do not know. In fact, most agents would confess, “It was hard for me”.

Successful agents just found ways to quickly get beyond their reluctance and get comfortable with the call. Their end goal was more important than their fear.

Truth

It takes purposeful practice over time to grow in any area.

Ensure that participants access their next Mission and work on it between classroom days. Stress the importance of this time well spent!
Every day in class you will be making calls to specific targeted groups. We will follow the three-step process each time.

1. Prepare – Create your call list for the next class.
2. Take Action – Real-Play calls will be made in the next class.
3. Maintain – Notes will be written to all those you call in class.

You identified more people in your Sphere of Influence today. Prepare a call list for your next class consisting of the people you haven’t contacted yet. Include some FSBOs to call as well (find them online or get phone numbers from their signs).
